Course Description:

Statistics 1430 is an introduction to the fundamental concepts of probability, statistics, and data analysis. Topics include surveys and experiments, numerical and graphical summaries, discrete and continuous random variables, simple linear regression, relations in categorical data, sampling distributions for means, and introduction to confidence intervals. The prerequisite is Math 1131, 1141, 1151, 1156, 1161.xx, or 1181H, or permission of instructor. We assume you can do basic integration.

This course satisfies the General Education foundation requirement in Mathematical and Quantitative Reasoning or Data Analysis which has the following goals and expected learning outcomes:

Goals: Successful students will be able to apply quantitative or logical reasoning and/or mathematical/statistical methods to understand and solve problems and will be able to communicate their results.

Expected Learning Outcomes (ELOs): Successful students are able to:

1.1 Use logical, mathematical and/or statistical concepts and methods to represent real-world situations.

- 1.2 Use diverse logical, mathematical and/or statistical approaches, technologies and tools to communicate about data symbolically, visually, numerically and verbally.
- 1.3 Draw appropriate inferences from data based on quantitative analysis and/or logical reasoning.
- 1.4 Make and evaluate important assumptions in estimation, modeling, logical argumentation and/or data analysis.
- 1.5 Evaluate social and ethical implications in mathematical and quantitative reasoning.

This course also satisfies the Legacy General Education requirement in Data Analysis, which has the following goals and expected learning outcomes:

Goals: Students develop skills in drawing conclusions and critically evaluating results based on data.

Expected Learning Outcomes:

1. Students understand basic concepts of statistics and probability.
2. Students comprehend methods needed to analyze and critically evaluate statistical arguments.
3. Students recognize the importance of statistical ideas.

How ELOs will be met: STAT 1430 will promote an understanding of statistical principles in a theoretical and applied framework. Data organization and visualization techniques will be discussed, as well as techniques that allow one to make inference using sample data. The interpretation of results will be heavily emphasized. The ELOs will be assessed through group discussion, lecture quizzes, recitation activities, and exams.

Recitation Assignments and Recitation Sessions

- ✓ Four recitation activities are due each week (three will be due in Week 1 and the weeks with holidays). These recitation activities are due on the following Sunday at 11:59 p.m. and must be submitted online through Carmen.
 - On the weeks where you submit 4 recitation activities, 2 will be graded for correctness, and 2 will be graded for completeness.
 - On the weeks where you submit 3 recitation activities, 1 will be graded for correctness, and 2 will be graded for completeness.
- ✓ You are assigned to 4 recitation sessions per week.
 - In these recitation sessions, the TAs will begin with a review of big ideas from lecture and/or work through some examples. Then, you will be split into breakout rooms where you can work as a group (or individually) on that day's recitation activity. The TAs and I will be available to answer any questions as they arise!
 - Bring completely filled-in lecture notes to recitation. Due to time constraints, we cannot explain all the material from scratch in recitations.
 - On non-exam days, attendance at these recitation sessions is optional.
- ✓ Late work is not accepted unless there are extenuating long-term circumstances that are documented. The lowest 3 recitation activity scores are dropped to cover all work that is not turned in for any other reason.
- ✓ Questions on all recitation activities will cover material recently covered in lecture.
- ✓ Each recitation activity will be worth 10 points. Most of the time, on the recitation activities graded for correctness, we will grade 5 random problems worth 2 points each.
- ✓ Recitation questions will include short answer work as well as MC/TF.

Lecture – Notes, Videos, & Online Quizzes in Carmen:

- ✓ All lectures are online in video format (they are in 15-minute chunks). In each week's module, the videos are posted in the order that they should be watched. The corresponding lecture notes are posted in the Modules as well. Also, there are weekly lecture quizzes that ask questions from the corresponding lectures.

- ✓ Lecture Quizzes are due on the following Sundays at 11:59 p.m. they are assigned, (they will be posted on the Sunday prior).
 - You will have 1 attempt for each lecture quiz.
 - We drop the lowest lecture quiz score.

Homework – Online Quizzes in Carmen:

- ✓ Each week you will complete an online homework worth 20 points, due the following Sunday at 11:59 p.m. (HW for a particular week will be posted the Sunday prior, so you will have one full week for these assignments). These homework assignments will appear as quizzes on Carmen. You may use any materials you want to complete the homework. We encourage you to work on your own to simulate practice for exams.
 - You will have 2 attempts for each homework assignment; your highest score will be kept.
 - We drop the lowest HW grade.

Exam Information and Policies:

- Number of exams. There will be one midterm exam and one final exam. The final exam will contain material covered after the midterm (as well as regression and correlation).
- Exam Monitoring: To monitor you during the exams, you must have your webcam on and be logged into Zoom. The exam sessions will be recorded. If we need to see your screen at any time, we will send you a chat message; at that point you must show your screen or your exam will not be accepted.
- Exam Content and Advice. Exam questions are all MC/TF. An online practice exam will be posted for each exam, as well as review materials including old (on paper) exams. Read the document on how to study for exams in the Midterm Practice Module.
- Exam materials. You may use your own course materials (notes, book, etc.) during exams. However, you are not allowed to communicate with anyone or go outside the exam website. This will be monitored and locked down. A formula sheet is posted on the Carmen website under the COURSE INFORMATION Module; you may use this on exams. Statistical tables from the text are also on Carmen (also in the COURSE INFORMATION Module).
- You MUST HAVE your Buck-ID available to show the camera during the exam.
- If you're late to an exam, had the wrong day on your schedule, or missed the exam for any unexcused reason, you might not be allowed to make it up and may receive a zero. If you are allowed to take a make-up exam, you may receive a penalty of up to 25% of the total points possible on the exam. Any missed exams with no communication to us within 24 hours (except for extreme emergencies) may receive a 0.
- Make-up Exams: Make-up exams will generally not be given. If you have an emergency or extended illness and are going to miss an exam, please notify Dhruv Arora as soon as possible so arrangements can be made. Please also have documentation (doctor's note, etc.) that says you were unable (e.g., too sick) to take the exam. Your documentation must be approved prior to taking a make-up exam.

No early final exams – no exception

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term “academic misconduct” includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-48.7 \(B\)). For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct.

Make-Up Assignment Policy – Restricted:

- ✓ We do not have make-up assignments except for extended emergency situations or extended illness; if you are in one of those situations, you must let us know right away so we can work with you. To cover these situations, we do drop 3 recitation activities, 1 HW, and 1 lecture quiz.
- ✓ If you are on university business (e.g., conference, university trip), are an athlete, are a member of the military, or if you are celebrating a religious holiday, please let the TAs know prior to your absence so your make-up work can be arranged.
- ✓ If you have an extended illness or extended emergency and this illness causes you to miss more than the allowed number of dropped recitation activities, lecture quizzes, and/or homework assignments, obtain documentation, and contact Dhruv Arora immediately.
- ✓ We cannot add additional dropped assignments. Save the drops for when they are needed!

Statement about disability services:

The university strives to maintain a healthy and accessible environment to support student learning in and out of the classroom. If you anticipate or experience academic barriers based on your disability (including mental health, chronic, or temporary medical conditions), please let me know immediately so that we can privately discuss options. To establish reasonable accommodations, I may request that you register with Student Life Disability Services. After registration, make arrangements with me as soon as possible to discuss your accommodations so that they may be implemented in a timely fashion.

If you are ill and need to miss class, including if you are staying home and away from others while experiencing symptoms of a viral infection or fever, please let me know immediately. In cases where illness interacts with an underlying medical condition, please consult with Student Life Disability Services to request reasonable accommodations. You can connect with them at slds@osu.edu; 614-292-3307; or slds.osu.edu.

PLEASE TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF (OSU Mental Health Statement):

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. The Ohio State University offers services to assist you with addressing these and other concerns you may be experiencing. If you or someone you know are suffering from any of the aforementioned conditions, you can learn more about the broad range of confidential mental health services available on campus via the Office of Student Life's Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) by visiting ccs.osu.edu or calling 614-292-5766. CCS is located on the 4th Floor of the Younkin Success Center and 10th Floor of Lincoln Tower. You can reach an on call counselor when CCS is closed at 614-292-5766 and 24 hour emergency help is also available 24/7 by dialing 988 to reach the Suicide and Crisis Lifeline.

Section Changes, Unpaid Fees: The instructor and TAs will not under any circumstances sign paperwork regarding section changes. E-mail Jean Scott in the Statistics Office (scott.961@osu.edu) for the policy on section changes. If your fees are unpaid, you should not be attending class. However, if there is a valid reason (e.g., financial aid hasn't gone through), submit this in writing (with documentation) to Jean Scott ASAP (scott.961@osu.edu).

Statement on Religious Accommodations:

Ohio State has had a longstanding practice of making reasonable academic accommodations for students' religious beliefs and practices in accordance with applicable law. In 2023, Ohio State updated its practice to align with new state legislation. Under this new provision, students must be in early communication with their instructors regarding any known accommodation requests for religious beliefs and practices, providing notice of specific dates for which they request alternative accommodations within 14 days after the first instructional day of the course. Instructors in turn shall not question the sincerity of a student's religious or spiritual belief system in reviewing such requests and shall keep requests for accommodations confidential.

With sufficient notice, instructors will provide students with reasonable alternative accommodations with regard to examinations and other academic requirements with respect to students' sincerely held religious beliefs and practices by allowing up to three absences each semester for the student to attend or participate in religious activities. Examples of religious accommodations can include, but are not limited to, rescheduling an exam, altering the time of a student's presentation, allowing make-up assignments to substitute for missed class work, or flexibility in due dates or research responsibilities. If concerns arise about a requested accommodation, instructors are to consult their tenure initiating unit head for assistance.

A student's request for time off shall be provided if the student's sincerely held religious belief or practice severely affects the student's ability to take an exam or meet an academic requirement and the student has notified their instructor, in writing during the first 14 days after the course begins, of the date of each absence. Although students are required to provide notice within the first 14 days after a course begins, instructors are strongly encouraged to work with the student to provide a reasonable accommodation if a request is made outside the notice period. A student may not be penalized for an absence approved under this policy.

If students have questions or disputes related to academic accommodations, they should contact their course instructor, and then their department or college office. For questions or to report discrimination or harassment based on religion, individuals should contact the Civil Rights Compliance Office. (Policy: Religious Holidays, Holy Days and Observances)
